Remember the fish chowder by the Earnest Workers this afternoon and evening from 4 to 9 p. m., in the room on the west side of the square recently vacated by Mrs. LeGrande, the milliner.

O. B. Dyke, a clever young man of Tennessee, has accepted a position as dispatcher for the Atlantic Coast Line in this city. Mr. Dyke is an Elk, which means that he must necessarily be a good fellow.

Deputy Revenue Collector d'Martins of Jacksonville is in the city on official business. Mr. d'Martins is a clever official, and has made many friends among all classes of people with whom he has had dealings here.

Friends of Conductor Beasley of the Gainesville and Gulf railroad will regret to learn that he is quite ill, suffering from acute indigestion in his quarters at The Oaks. It is hoped that he will soon be enabled to resume his duties.

Tax Assessor W. W. Colson and Tax Collector W. D. Dickinson are now on their third weekly official rounds to various sections of the county. Having spent two weeks in the West End, they are this week visiting the farmers in the eastern section of the county, and expect to be absent until Saturday night.

Hon. Henry S. Chubb, register of the United States land office, has been honored by the presentation of a handsome autograph half-tone portrait of the President, which now occupies a prominent position over his desk in his private office. It is one of the truest likenesses ever seen of "Teddy" in this section, and is greatly admired by the President's friends.

PHIFER BROS.,
Phifer's Corner, Gainesville, Fla.

Wilbur McCoy, land and immigration agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, who makes his headquarters in Jacksonville, was in the city yesterday on business connected with the United States land office.

Among the prominent visitors to this city yesterday was Judge R. McConathy of Ocala, formerly county judge of Marion county. Judge McConathy was here on business connected with the United States land office and the Alachua County Abstract Company.

On account of a big convention of the Baptist church, colored, at Ocala, Ticket Agent Goodwin of the Atlantic Coast Line enjoyed a tremendous patronage from colored people on the southbound train who were going to the convention yesterday, having disposed of nearly a hundred tickets for this point.

C. S. Robertson, the clever and efficient traveling solicitor for the Armour Car Lines, left yesterday for Clearwater, St. Petersburg and other points in the interest of his line. Mr. Robertson states that the Armour lines have considerable business yet throughout South Florida, if it is possible to secure a movement.

Jesse C. Clark, the clever and successful representative for Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and other Southern States for the Roundtree Trunk and Bag Factory of Richmond, Va., has returned from Richmond, where he has been to arrange his spring line. Mr. Clark expects to start on his regular spring tour in a few days.

Dr. Rice and Hon. E. A. Copeland of Greensboro, Ga., were in the city for awhile yesterday. They were en route to Crystal River, in the vicinity of which place they have established, with other friends, an annual camp. Mr. Copeland is a banker, while Dr. Rice is a prominent physician of the Georgia town. They are personal friends of J. A. Goodwin, and stopped over to spend a short time with him.

The Earnest Workers Society of the Presbyterian church desire to announce that, notwithstanding every effort has been made to secure oysters for the supper today, it has been impossible to get them. The chowder will be prepared in tempting style, however, and ice cream will be served in addition. The supper will be served in the store recently vacated by Mrs. LeGrande, west side square, from 4 to 9 p. m.

G. E. Burnett of Alachua was in town Tuesday and made The Sun an agreeable call, renewing his subscription to Alachua county's representative newspaper. Mr. Burnett is one of those substantial farmers who lives at home and boards at the same place. Probably no man in the county has bought less meat during the fifteen years he has been keeping house. He raises everything on his farm necessary for food except coffee and tea, and those articles are not really necessities.

Coductor G. Heyward Young, the popular bell-cord yanker on the Atlantic Coast Line between Ocala and Brooksville, has arrived in the city, and is a guest of relatives here for a few days. Mr. Young, who is well known here, has been elected a member of Gainesville Lodge of Elks, and inasmuch as it is rumored something important will happen in his career in a few days, after which he will go on a tour with a companion, he is desirous of having the mysteries of the order exemplified to him before he takes this step.

Rev. Crawford Jackson, who is here in the interest of the erection of a protective school near Atlanta, Ga., for the wayward youth, seems to be meeting with very good success. The purposes and objects of this association have been told in The Sun before, hence it is useless to review them. It is only necessary to state again that this association will be composed of ten Southern States, all of whom will share the privilege of placing their respective subjects under the care and protection of the association, which will, by the proposition offered, conduct an industrial home.

The Earnest Workers Society will give a fish chowder in the vacant storeroom on the west side of the square from 4 to 9 this evening for the benefit of the building fund of the Presbyterian church. Deepwater fish were ordered specially for this occasion, and Judge Carlisle will prepare the chowder as only one of his experience in that line knows how to prepare it. Turn out and help the ladies in a good cause and at the same time get your money's worth. If you relish good fish chowder you should not miss this one, and if you have never tasted it now is your opportunity to learn how good it is.
